Vice Chair, Councilwoman host legislators, state Gambling Commission

Vice Chairwoman Sylvia Miller and Councilwoman Monica Miller welcomed state legislators and members of the Washington State Gambling Commission to the Emerald Queen Casino & Hotel in Tacoma on Jan. 4 as part of the commission's "Gaming 101" tour.

Guests included state Reps. Chris Stearns and Tina Orwall, State Gambling Commission member Bud Sizemore and many staff members. Puyallup Tribal Member Anthony Duenas helped the Councilmembers lead guests on a tour of the new casino, which opened in 2020. Duenas created the 174.5-foot by 30-foot mural that depicts bone games near the casino's main entrance.

Vice Chairman Sylvia Miller and Councilwoman Monica Miller pose with state legislators and members of the Washington State Gambling Commission in the BetMGM @ EQC sportsbook in Tacoma on Jan. 4.

Councilwoman gives testimony for MMIWP

Councilwoman Anna Bean gives testimony in favor of HB 1177 to the state Legislature's Community Safety, Justice, & Reentry Committee on Jan. 17, 2023. The bill would create a missing and murdered indigenous women and people cold case investigations unit. "We have opportunities daily to give light to those in some of the darkest of places," Councilwoman Bean said. "Today we have the opportunity to give light and warmth to cases that have now turned cold. ... We're talking about lives—lives that have been taken—unsolved cases, and cases that have been shelved. Imagine what that does to the person. It's as if that person's life didn't matter. By funding a new cold case unit, you would be giving law enforcement agencies resources they truly need. This bill would show that we value the lives of our missing and murdered relatives. This bill would also show that we value the families and give understanding and closure with their loved ones." Full video of the testimony will be available on the committee's website: <https://leg.wa.gov/House/Committees/CSJR>. Councilwoman Bean serves on the executive committee of the Washington State MMIWP Task Force. Learn more about the task force at atg.wa.gov.

Tribal Council welcomes House minority leader

Tribal Council welcomed U.S. House Minority Leader Hakeem Jeffries and Washington State Speaker of the House Laurie Jinkins into Chambers on Jan. 18. Jeffries, who has represented New York's 8th congressional district since 2013, was elected Democratic Caucus leader in November without opposition, succeeding Nancy Pelosi. As the highest-ranking

Democrat in the House, he is in line to become speaker should the Democrats retake control of the House. Jinkins, D-Tacoma, represents the 27th Legislative District in Pierce County. She won the speakership in 2020. They discussed Tribal priorities such as salmon recovery, law enforcement, natural resources, Missing and Murdered Indigenous Women and People, housing and ways to collaborate on solutions.

Councilmembers make the case for school HVAC funding

By Puyallup Tribal News Staff

The Tribe's bid to secure state funding for a new school HVAC system moved ahead on Jan. 5 when Vice Chairwoman Sylvia Miller, Councilmembers James Rideout and Monica Miller, and Chief Leschi Schools Superintendent Marc Brouillet presented the project to the Pierce County Legislative Delegation.

The meeting at Clover Creek Technical College in Lakewood took place at the state lawmakers' invitation. At stake: state funding to replace a failing, outdated HVAC system that has caused major water pipe leaks, too-hot or too-cold classrooms and a shortage of fresh, outside air.

Cost to replace: an estimated $31 million.

The project cleared a major hurdle in late 2022 when Gov. Inslee included $15 million in his proposed 2023-33 10-year capital plan. Now it needs to go through the monthslong legislative process, and gain approval from the state Legislature.

"This is such an important project," Vice Chairwoman Miller said to the elected officials. "When other public schools have a major capital improvement, they can issues bonds and levies to pay for their needed upgrades. But we lack that ability, even though we are considered a public school under state law."

Capital improvement problems are further hampered by the historic underfunding of the federal Bureau of Indian Education, which otherwise might have supported improvements years ago. Chief Leschi Schools was built in 1996 but has received little funding to maintain its systems. The HVAC system is original to the building. According to the project team, the school's HVAC equipment has been in place nearly double the industry standard for end of useful life of such equipment.

A frustration expressed by the councilmembers is that with the Puyallup Tribe being one of the most urban reservations in the country, most members do not live on trust land—yet pay property taxes that benefit their local school districts. If they send their own children to Chief Leschi, their property taxes do not follow.

A new HVAC system will not only provide effective heating and cooling of classrooms

Vice Chairwoman Sylvia Miller, Councilmembers James Rideout and Monica Miller, and Chief Leschi Schools Superintendent Marc Brouillet present the school's HVAC project to the Pierce County Legislative Delegation at Clover Park Technical College in Lakewood on Jan. 5.

Chief Leschi Schools' HVAC system is long past the end of its useful life.

but allow the use of outside air and reduce carbon emissions by 98 percent. If approved, work for the secondary schools can begin as early as summer 2024, with the elementary school, gym and cafeteria following in 2025.

Increased construction costs already are affecting the project. The 2022 estimate of $24.5 million has already increased by over 20 percent.

If approved, the state capital funding would cover about half the cost. The rest of the needed funding might come through COVID relief funds and a small-schools modernization grant the Tribe is pursuing.

The state Legislature is scheduled to vote on the state's final budget on April 23.

Puyallup Tribe launches new logistics company

By Puyallup Tribal News Staff

PUYALLUP RESERVATION, Tacoma, Wash.—The Puyallup Tribe has launched its own international logistics company, Tahoma Global Logistics (website: TahomaGlobal.com).

The new company will focus on land operations to leverage the Tribe’s properties along the Blair Waterway in Tacoma, which were regained in the 1990 Land Claims Settlement. Initial services will include container movement, storage and maintenance, bulk material handling, heavy equipment fitting, transloading services, inspection, maintenance, and short-haul pickup and delivery trucking. The Tribe’s property provides customers convenient port access as well as registered foreign trade zone status.

“This is an exciting development for us on our journey to securing the future of generations to come,” said the Puyallup Tribal Council, the Tribe’s governing body. “The name reflects our outlook: We are a Tribe that thinks on a global scale. Tahoma Global Logistics will continue our economic development efforts, provide revenue to our government and over time will open workforce opportunities to our Membership.”

Tahoma Global Logistics is the latest in a series of economic development initiatives the Tribe has launched since 2020, when it opened its new $400 million Emerald

Queen Casino in Tacoma. In 2021, the Tribe announced a partnership with Amazon on a sort center, opened the EQC hotel in Tacoma, launched the BetMGM @ EQC sportsbook and opened a fourth Commencement Bay Cannabis store. In 2022, the Tribe announced partnerships with Kenmore Air to operate a seaplane service and with celebrity chef Roy Yamaguchi to open a Native-inspired international cuisine waterfront restaurant.

February is National Teen Dating Violence Awareness and Prevention Month (TDVAM).

This is an issue that impacts everyone in our community, not just teens. Together we can raise our community’s awareness about teen dating violence and promote safe and healthy relationships. Teen dating violence is an Adverse Childhood Experience that affects millions of young people in the United States. Dating violence can take place in person, online, or through technology such as cell phones. Unhealthy, abusive, or violent relationships can have short and long term negative effects, including severe consequences, on a developing teen.

Youth who are victims of teen dating violence are more likely to:

- experience depression and anxiety symptoms
- engage in unhealthy behaviors, like using tobacco, drugs, and alcohol
- exhibit antisocial behaviors, like lying, theft, bullying, or hitting
- think about suicide

Violence in adolescent relationships set the stage for future relationship problems, including intimate partner violence and sexual violence perpetration and/or victimization throughout life. For example youth who are victims of dating violence in high school are at a higher risk for victimization during college.

For more information check out the full Teen Dating Violence Awareness Month Toolkit at www.CenterforPreventionofAbuse.org

STATISTICS

Less than 25% of those who experience dating violence in the LGBTQ+ community ever report the abuse.

ONLY 33% of teens who were in an abusive relationship ever told anyone about the abuse.

1 IN 3 TEENS in the US report experiencing some kind of abuse in their romantic relationships, including verbal and emotional abuse.

American high school students who have been hit, slapped, or physically hurt on purpose by their partner earned grades of C and D twice as often as earning grades A or B.

81% of parents either don’t believe that or don’t know if teen dating violence is an issue.

59% OF U.S. TEENS have personally experienced at least one type of abusive online behavior.

Among US high school students who dated in the past year, the prevalence of physical dating violence was higher among gay, lesbian, and bisexual students (17.5%) and students who identified as ‘not sure’ (24.5%) than heterosexual students (8.3%).

February is Heart Health Month

Unfortunately, many of us know someone who has had heart disease or stroke. Cardiovascular disease is the leading cause of death in American Indians and Alaska Natives. Heart disease and stroke are also leading causes of disability, preventing people from working and enjoying family activities.

Heart disease and stroke affects all of our lives, but we can all play a role in ending it. Prevention starts with everyone. Protect yourself and your loved ones from heart disease and stroke by understanding the risks and taking these steps.

- Get up and get active by being physically active for at least 30 minutes on most days of the week.
- Know your “ABCS”:
 - ♦ Ask your doctor if you should take an Aspirin every day.
 - ♦ Find out if you have high Blood pressure or Cholesterol, and if you do, get effective treatment.
 - ♦ If you Smoke, get help to quit. Contact PTHA’s Tobacco Cessation department: 253-593-0232, ext. 7215.
- Make your calories count by eating a heart-healthy diet high in fresh fruits and vegetables and low in sodium and trans fat.
- Take control of your heart health by following your doctor's prescription instructions.
- For additional resources, visit: heart.org.

Legal Aid Office is open and ready to serve you!*

Attention Tribal Members: DO YOU HAVE A WILL IN PLACE?

A will can ensure both your family and assets are taken care of and protected how you see fit.

Most importantly a will assists with:

- Obtaining peace of mind
- Preventing disputes over your assets
- Determining who inherits your property
- Directing your burial

Make an appointment with our will specialist today!

Appointment only Monday through Friday virtual or in-person at the main Admin building.
Contact 253-382-6810; LegalAid@puyalluptribe-nsn.gov for questions and appointments.

The office is independently contracted by the Puyallup Tribe and not a Tribal Administration department.*
